

Loyola Emergency Medical Services

2017 PEPP Hybrid Course

Pediatric Education for Prehospital Professionals (PEPP) represents a complete source of prehospital medical information for the emergency care of infants and children. Developed by the American Academy of Pediatrics, PEPP is an exciting curriculum designed to teach prehospital professionals how to better assess and manage ill or injured children.

PEPP is a comprehensive, innovative, and highly visual course featuring case-based lectures, live-action video, hands-on skills stations, and small group scenarios.

The PEPP Hybrid Course is a combination of online learning (8 hours for BLS, 14 hours for ALS), followed by hands-on practice in the classroom. Instead of attending a 2-day traditional onsite course, students learn a portion of the course through self-directed online modules. After completing all of the online modules, students then attend a 1-day onsite course for completion of hands-on practice, as well as instructor interaction and the final examination. Students will be sent a code via email to access the online component of the course. Students are required to have successfully completed the online content prior to attending the onsite course.
